

Come Home to Sawyer Airport.com

Let's face it. Websites dominate the media today!

And, the Ilyushin IL-78 has generated so much interest that Sawyer International Airport recently constructed an alternate website devoted to showcasing not only the Russian tanker, but little known facts surrounding the airports origin, history, and its successes.

There is literally something for everyone - from quarterly newsletters written by local author, Larry Chabot - to compelling content derived from the Marquette County Aviation Wall of Honor.

We invite you to explore the general aviation and flying club features where we'll introduce local pilots, and flight training opportunities. Or, discover the full extent of economic development, jobs, and people at Sawyer International Airport and Telkite Technology Park by viewing introductory videos or taking a virtual tour!

The website was designed with the help of LaDolce Video and Design. It is a work in progress, and will evolve as more content becomes available. We encourage your participation. Contact us with your stories, and/or photos.

Whether you fly, or not, I'm sure after browsing this site . . . you'll agree that Sawyer does indeed have an impact on our region and our lives.

Fly from Sawyer . . . come home to Sawyer!
